You have your own duties that you need to take care of
I wouldn't mind carrying him if needed
After all even if it's lightweight he is wearing armor which he's not used to NN.... That's true...
Ah, Sorry Tact!
You adventurers might be fine but today we have a kid with us. Let's rest here for a bit
But well I'm not that evil
Tact needs to grow by walking on his own feet

That smells nice!
You placed it in your item box right after it was freshly baked didn't you?
Yea
If we kept our pace thus far, we would arrive during the day, which is not ideal it's better to use some time to fill our stomachs

Mira is this applepie...
So tasty that it blew my exhaustion away

Whaaa, this soft texture of the apple pulp combined with the faint fragrance of lemon makes it feel more like custard cream. This combination fits together perfectly!
This combination of sweetness and sourness Saps your fatigue away and fills you with energy!
My tongue is refusing to let me swallow the apple pie because it doesn't want to let go of this majestic taste
Tongue

The happiness in my mouth is singing hymns while my stomach is tempting the apple pie inside

Silverhorn's tower
How was the applepie from last time?
I used to cook using rare ingredients all the time when master Dunbalf was around but.....
I wonder if I got any better at cooking since then....
She said that her party members liked it alot
And I've got you to thank for that Miss Ritalia

If she's Comes to Silverhorn again
It would be nice if i could have her deliver some food again
Give miss Luminaria my thanks for delivering it
Sure
Would be nice if you could include my and miss Luminaria's share next time ♡
Ofcourse!
Even if he is currently far away, I pray that the day will come where I can see him again その願いが叶っていたのだと知れますように！
Even if she's just Master Dunbalf's disciple Thinking about miss Mira warms my heart
